For your hard work, generosity, and sacrifice . . . we say thanks.

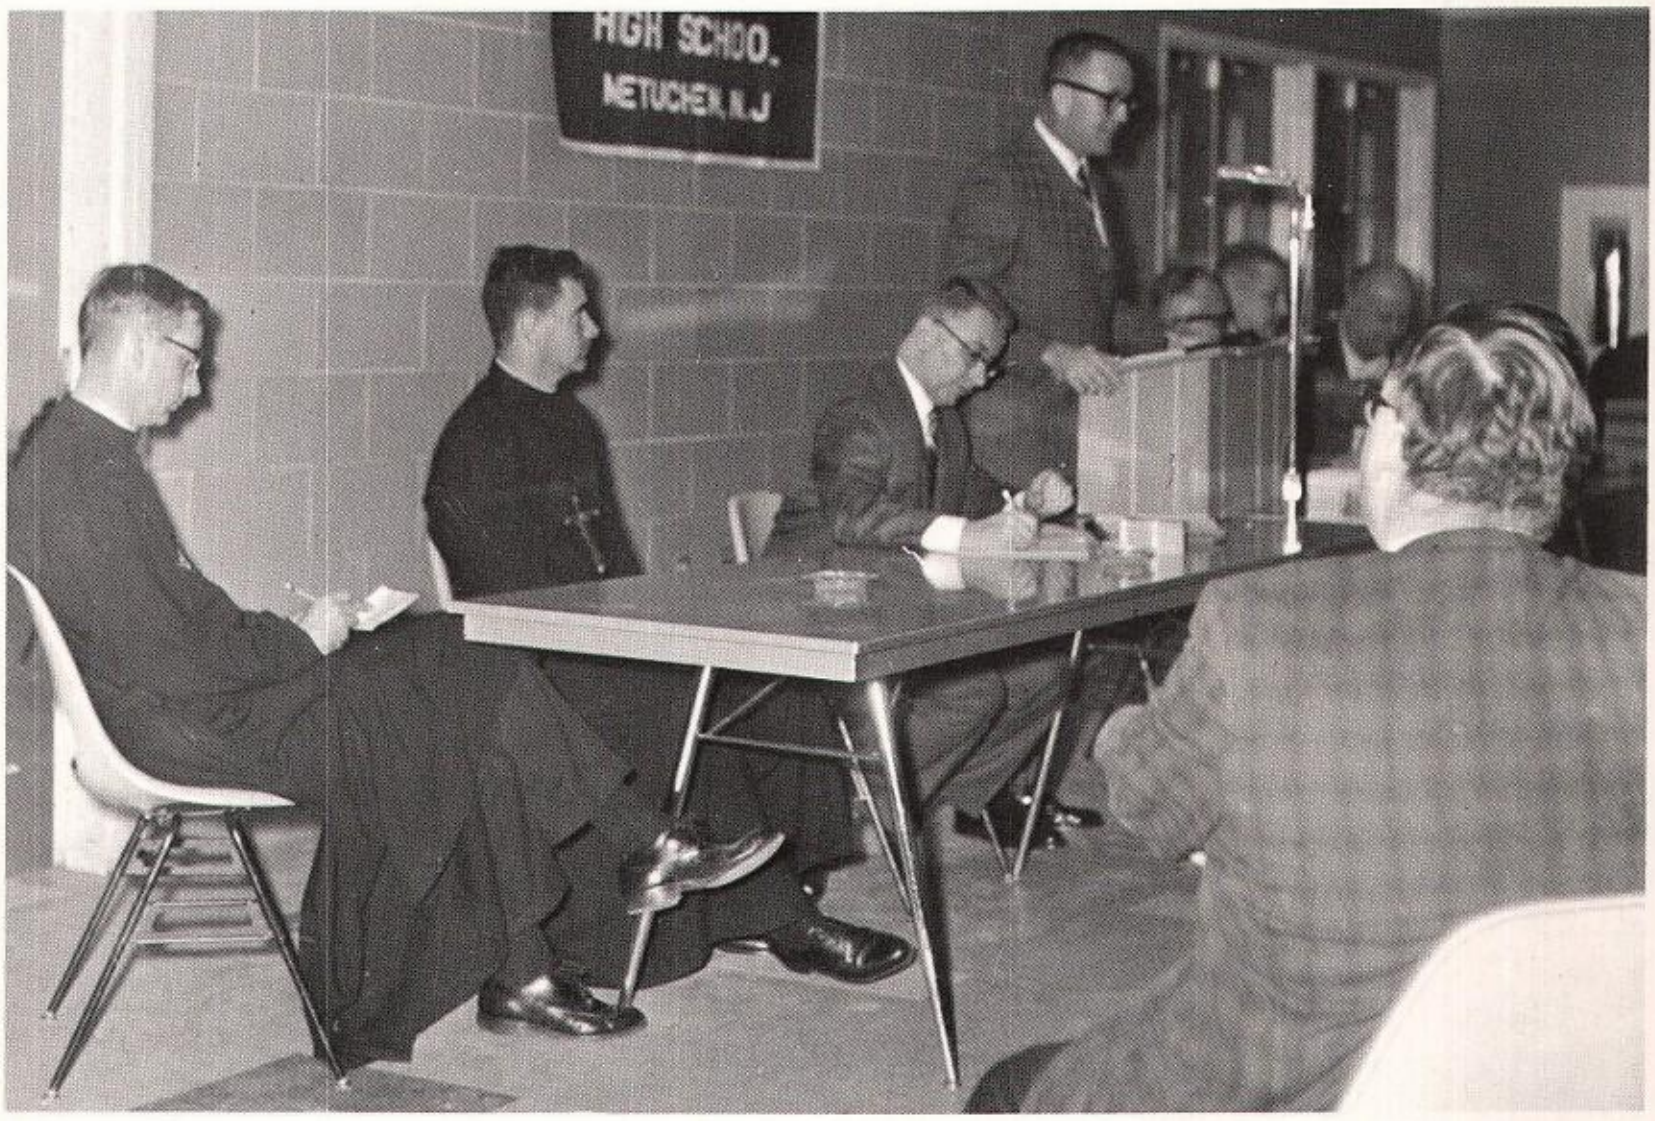
Every June, the Father's Club holds a Family Fair on the school grounds, inviting all the students and their families to a day of relaxation. All proceeds are used by the Father's Club in helping the school.

The beautiful Grass-tex track is a gift of the Father's Club. The track is one of the principal factors in the St. Joseph's illustrious track achievements.

Through the Father's Club Dance, the parents of the students get a chance to meet each other.

A student cannot attend St. Joseph's without being aware of all that the Father's Club has done for the school. Quite often a parochial school is forced to limit its facilities because of a lack of funds. Fortunately, St. Joe's has been able to avoid taking this step, largely due to the hard work and generosity of the Father's Club. A few of their most prominent contributions are the spring and winter tracks, the school bus, the swimming pool, and the tennis courts. We, the students of St. Joseph's, would like to thank the Father's Club for all that they have done for us by dedicating the 1968 Evergreen to them.

A group of students show their enthusiasm upon the arrival of the new school bus, which is another of the Father's Club's projects.



At regularly scheduled meetings, the Club introduces new ideas for the betterment of the school.

For the St. Joe's student, there is a time for everything . . .

If a school is to fulfill its role properly, it must be more than just a place of study. In order to provide a well-rounded education, it must have dedication and cooperation among its administration, faculty, and students.

The person who attends St. Joseph's can find that it is, indeed, more than just a school. He can make St. Joe's an integral part of his life, a home away from home. He can receive an excellent academic education. He can expand his interests and make many new friends by joining extra-curricular clubs. If he is an athlete, he can take part in a full program of interscholastic and intramural sports. There are plenty of social events for him to participate in.

In order to enjoy all of these benefits, the student must do one simple thing: he must be willing to do his part for his school. If he does this, the spirit, the vibrant life that is St. Joseph's, will continue to grow every day.

The academic life of every St. Joe's student is, of course, centered on his 9 A.M. to 3 P.M. day at school. During his four years at St. Joe's, he receives extensive classroom instruction in math, English, science, social studies, Religion, and the foreign languages. His work goes far beyond this point, however, since he is assigned homework, and term papers and other research projects.

The outstanding student receives recognition for his hard work by being chosen a member of the National Honor Society. In order to gain this honor, he must maintain a B average, and be a credit to St. Joseph's through his character, leadership, and service.

After completing his four years of high school, the St. Joe's student generally tries to further his education. In the past, 97% of our graduates have gone on to college.

NATIONAL

. . . a time for interests . . .

A student cannot receive a complete education in the classroom. It is important for him to develop many outside interests. For this reason, there is a wide variety of extracurricular activities at St. Joseph's. Any student can find at least one club that suits him. If he is interested in acting, there is a Dramatics Club that he can join. The future scientist will find many challenges in the Biology or Chemistry Clubs. Those fascinated by foreign languages can join the Spanish, French, German, or Latin Clubs. In addition to allowing the student to explore interesting subjects, all of these clubs help him to learn how to cooperate with others.

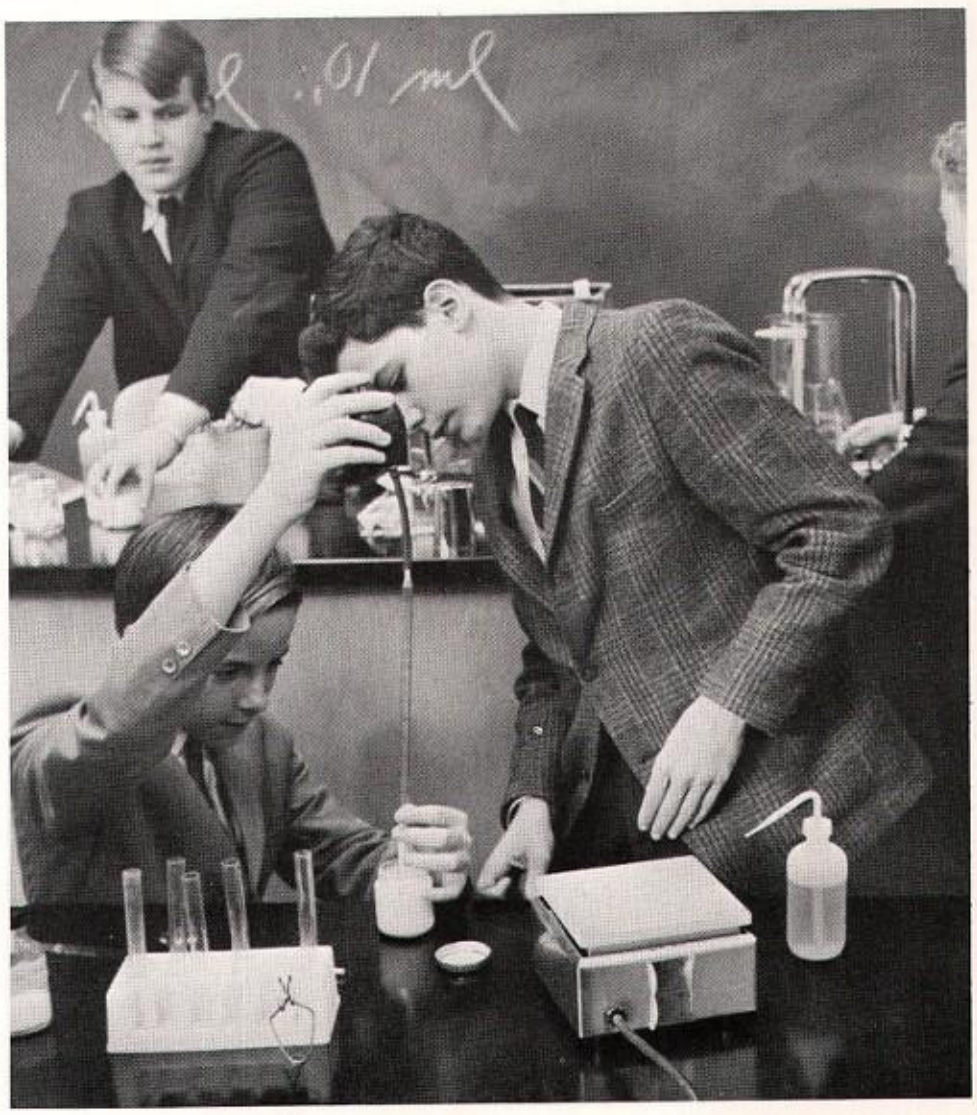
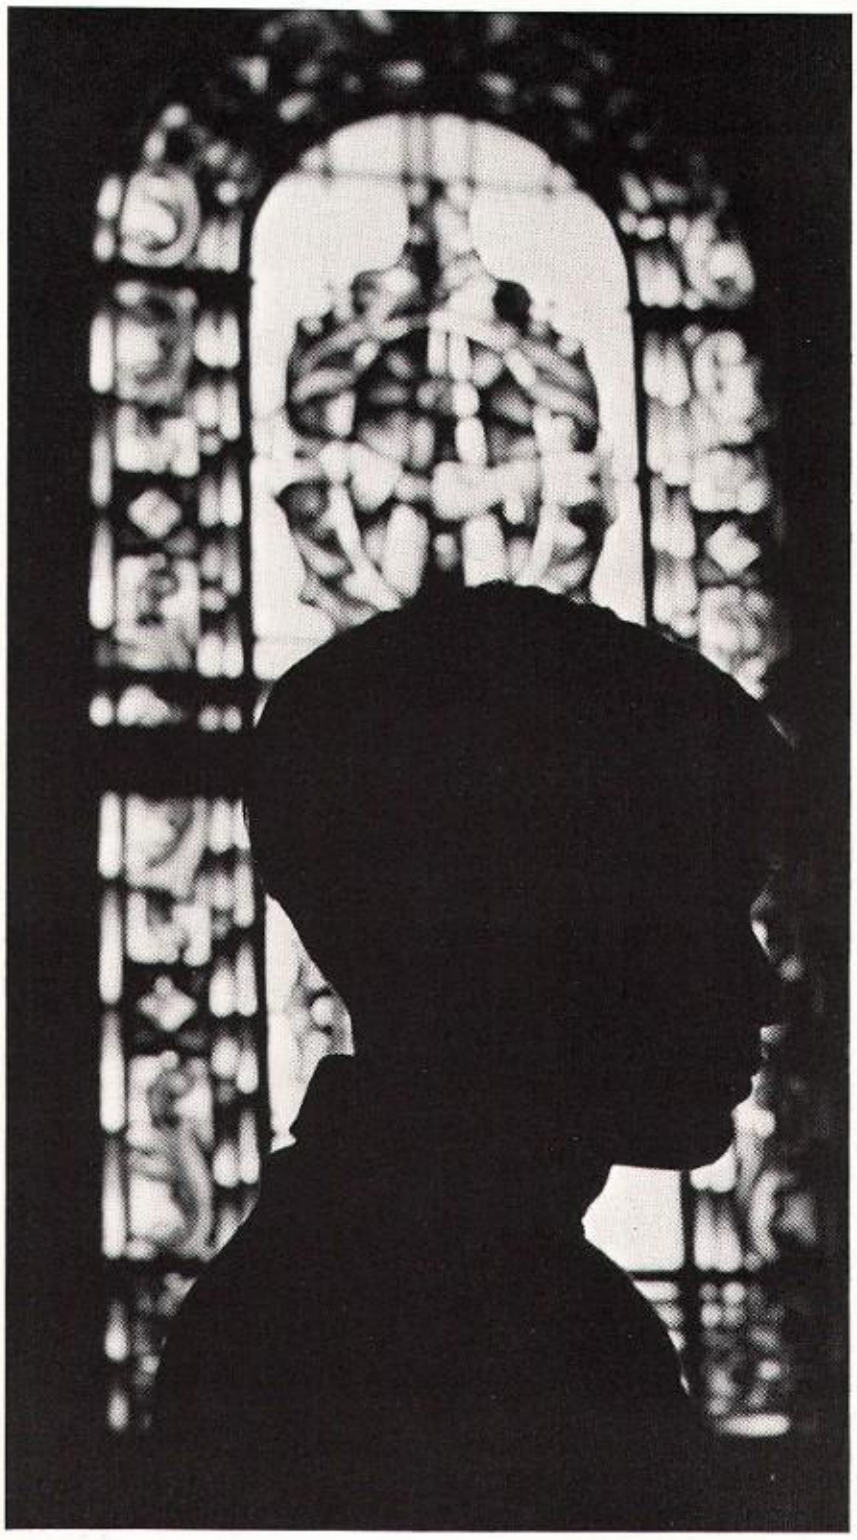
OFFICE



. . . a time for God . . .



Since St. Joseph's is a parochial school, religion is given an important place in the daily life of the student. In the classroom, the student studies his religion, and also receives guidance that tries to help him find himself as an individual person.

The religious atmosphere also extends outside the classroom. Each of the class divisions attends Mass once a month as a group. Juniors and Seniors make a retreat at the beginning of every school year. The aim of this training is to encourage the student to discover for himself the essence of Christianity, and to determine the place it is to have in his life.

If the student is to receive a complete education, his physical development cannot be neglected. Interscholastic and intramural sports help to fill this need in the student's life. At St. Joseph's the exceptional athlete can participate in any of several varsity sports, including basketball, baseball, soccer, track, tennis, and golf. If one is not good enough to make a varsity team, he can help his homeroom to win the intramural championship and gain the prized Golden Goblet.

Athletics can do much more than strengthen the body. They can also develop the student's personality, as team play teaches him the meaning of good sportsmanship and cooperation with others. These qualities can be invaluable to him in later life.

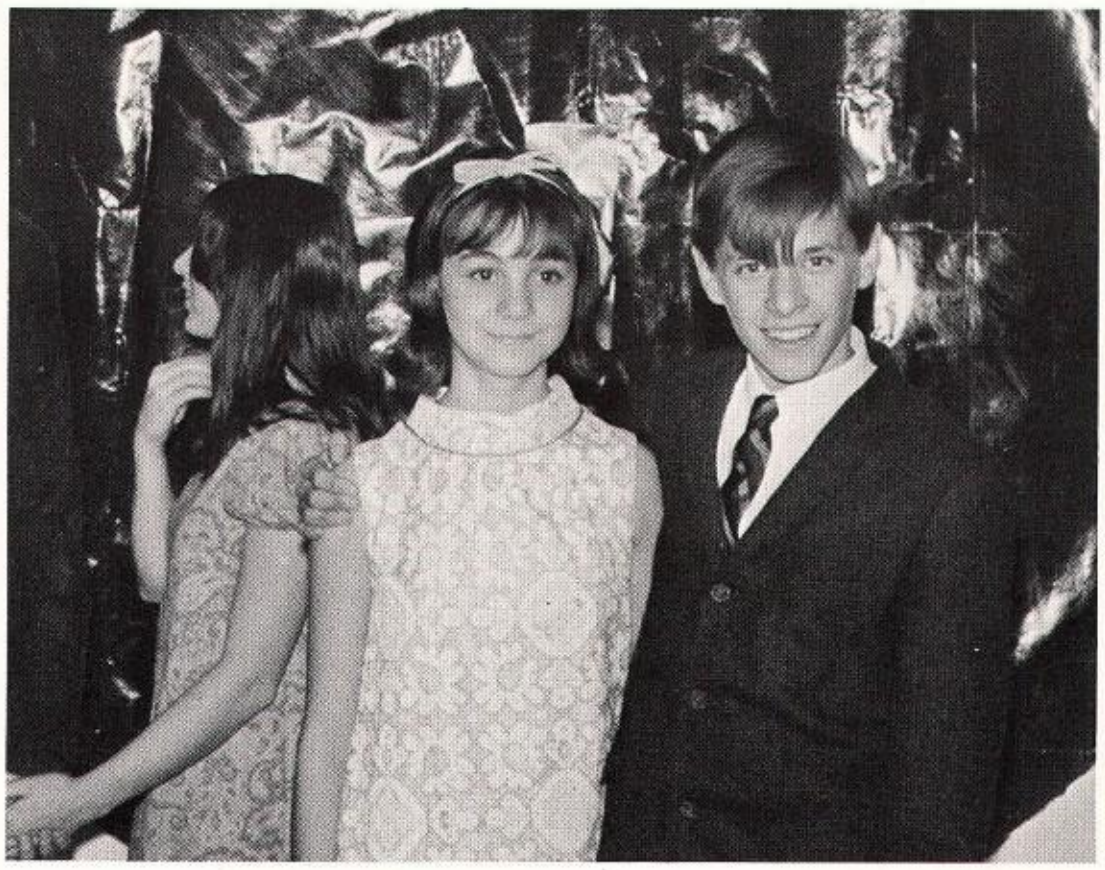
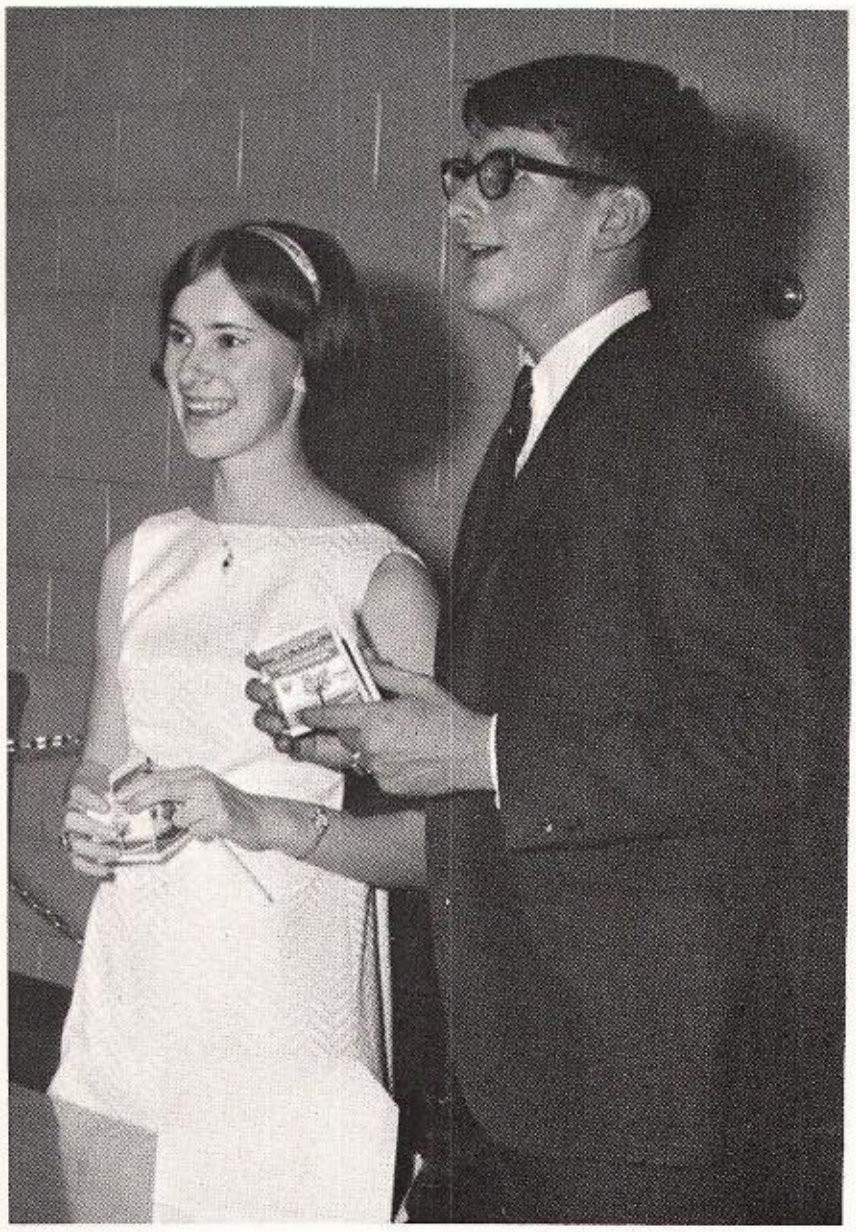
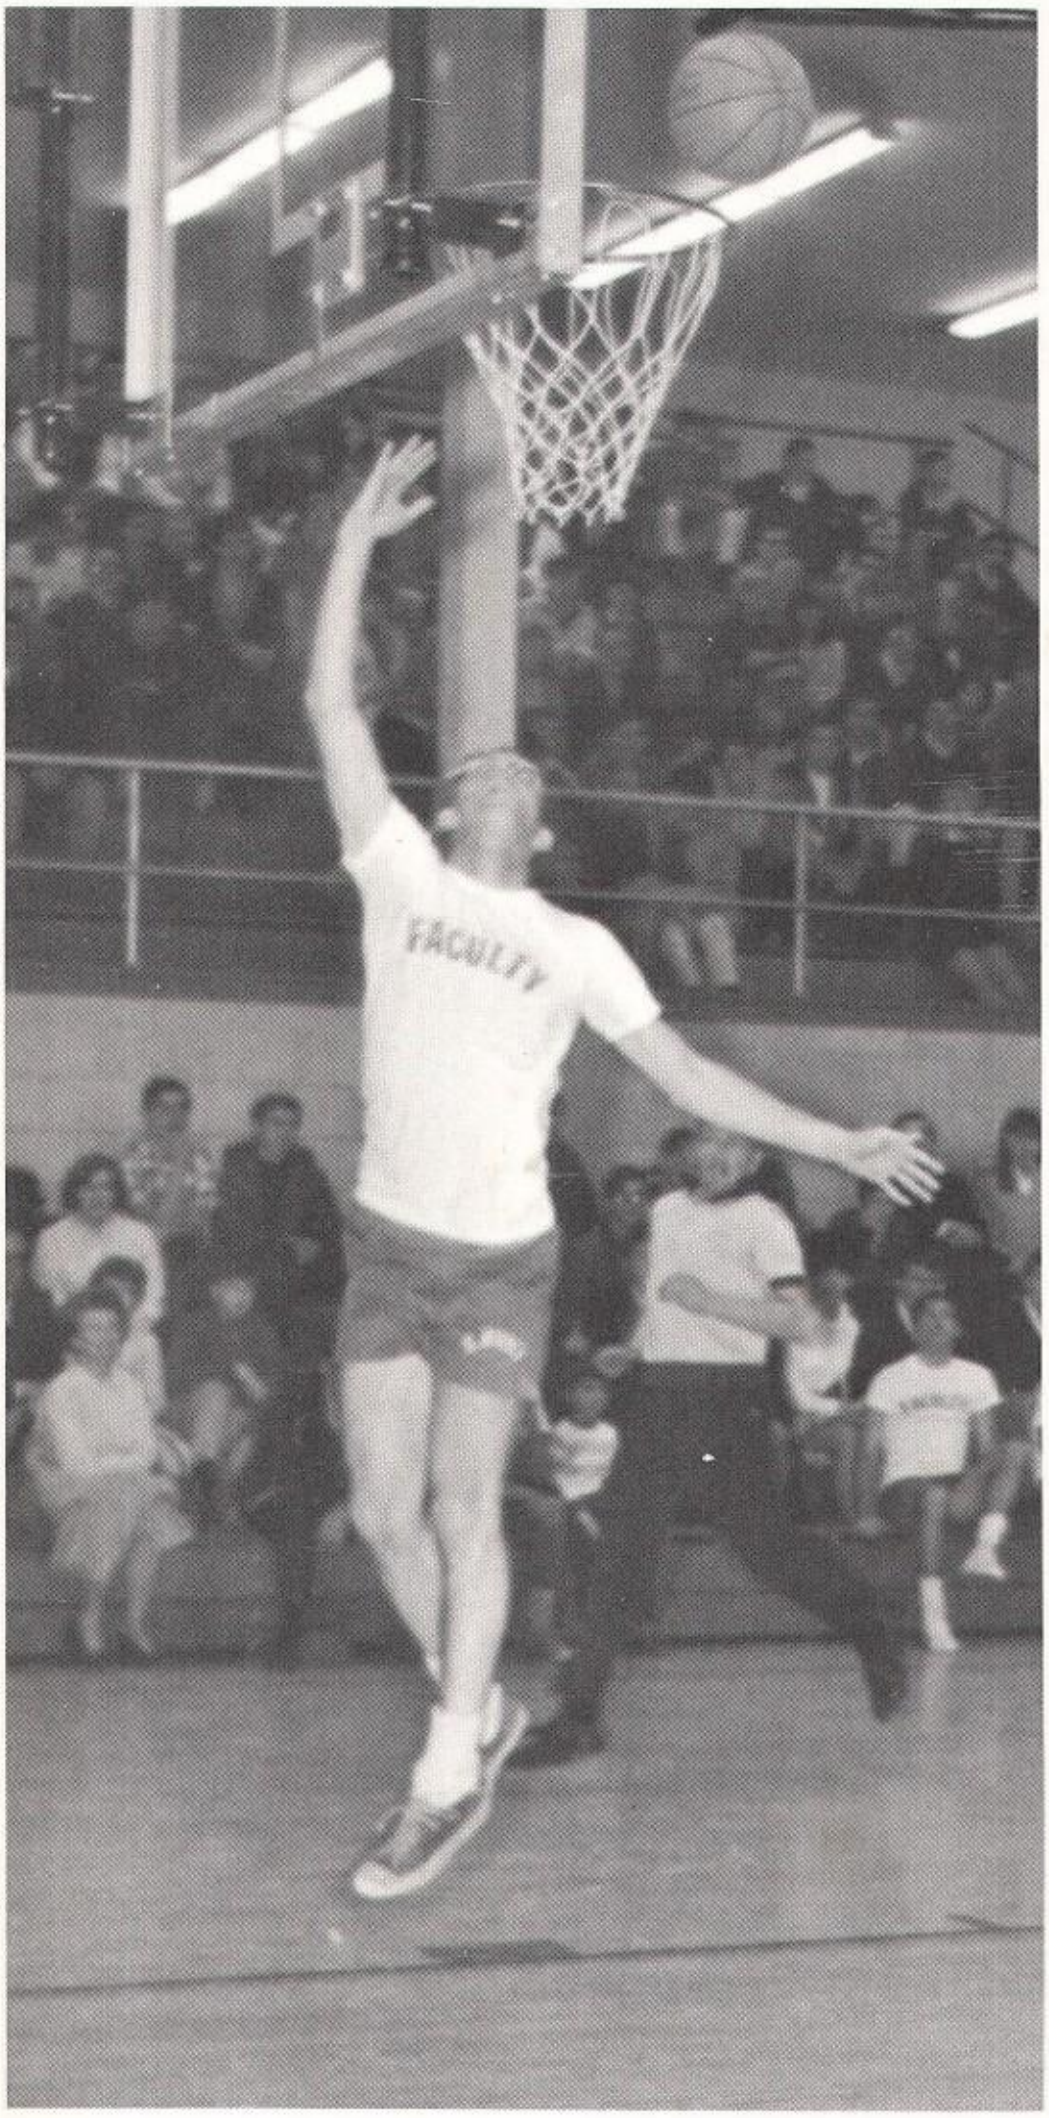
Since man lives in a society, it is important for him to know how to get along with others. For this reason, St. Joseph's has many social events. Whether the student attends a Student Council dance, the Family Fair, or supports his team at an athletic event, he is meeting people, making new friends, and learning how to communicate. To the individual student, of course, these events are full of fun. They also provide a time when he can relax, get away from his daily schedule of studies, and enjoy being with his friends.







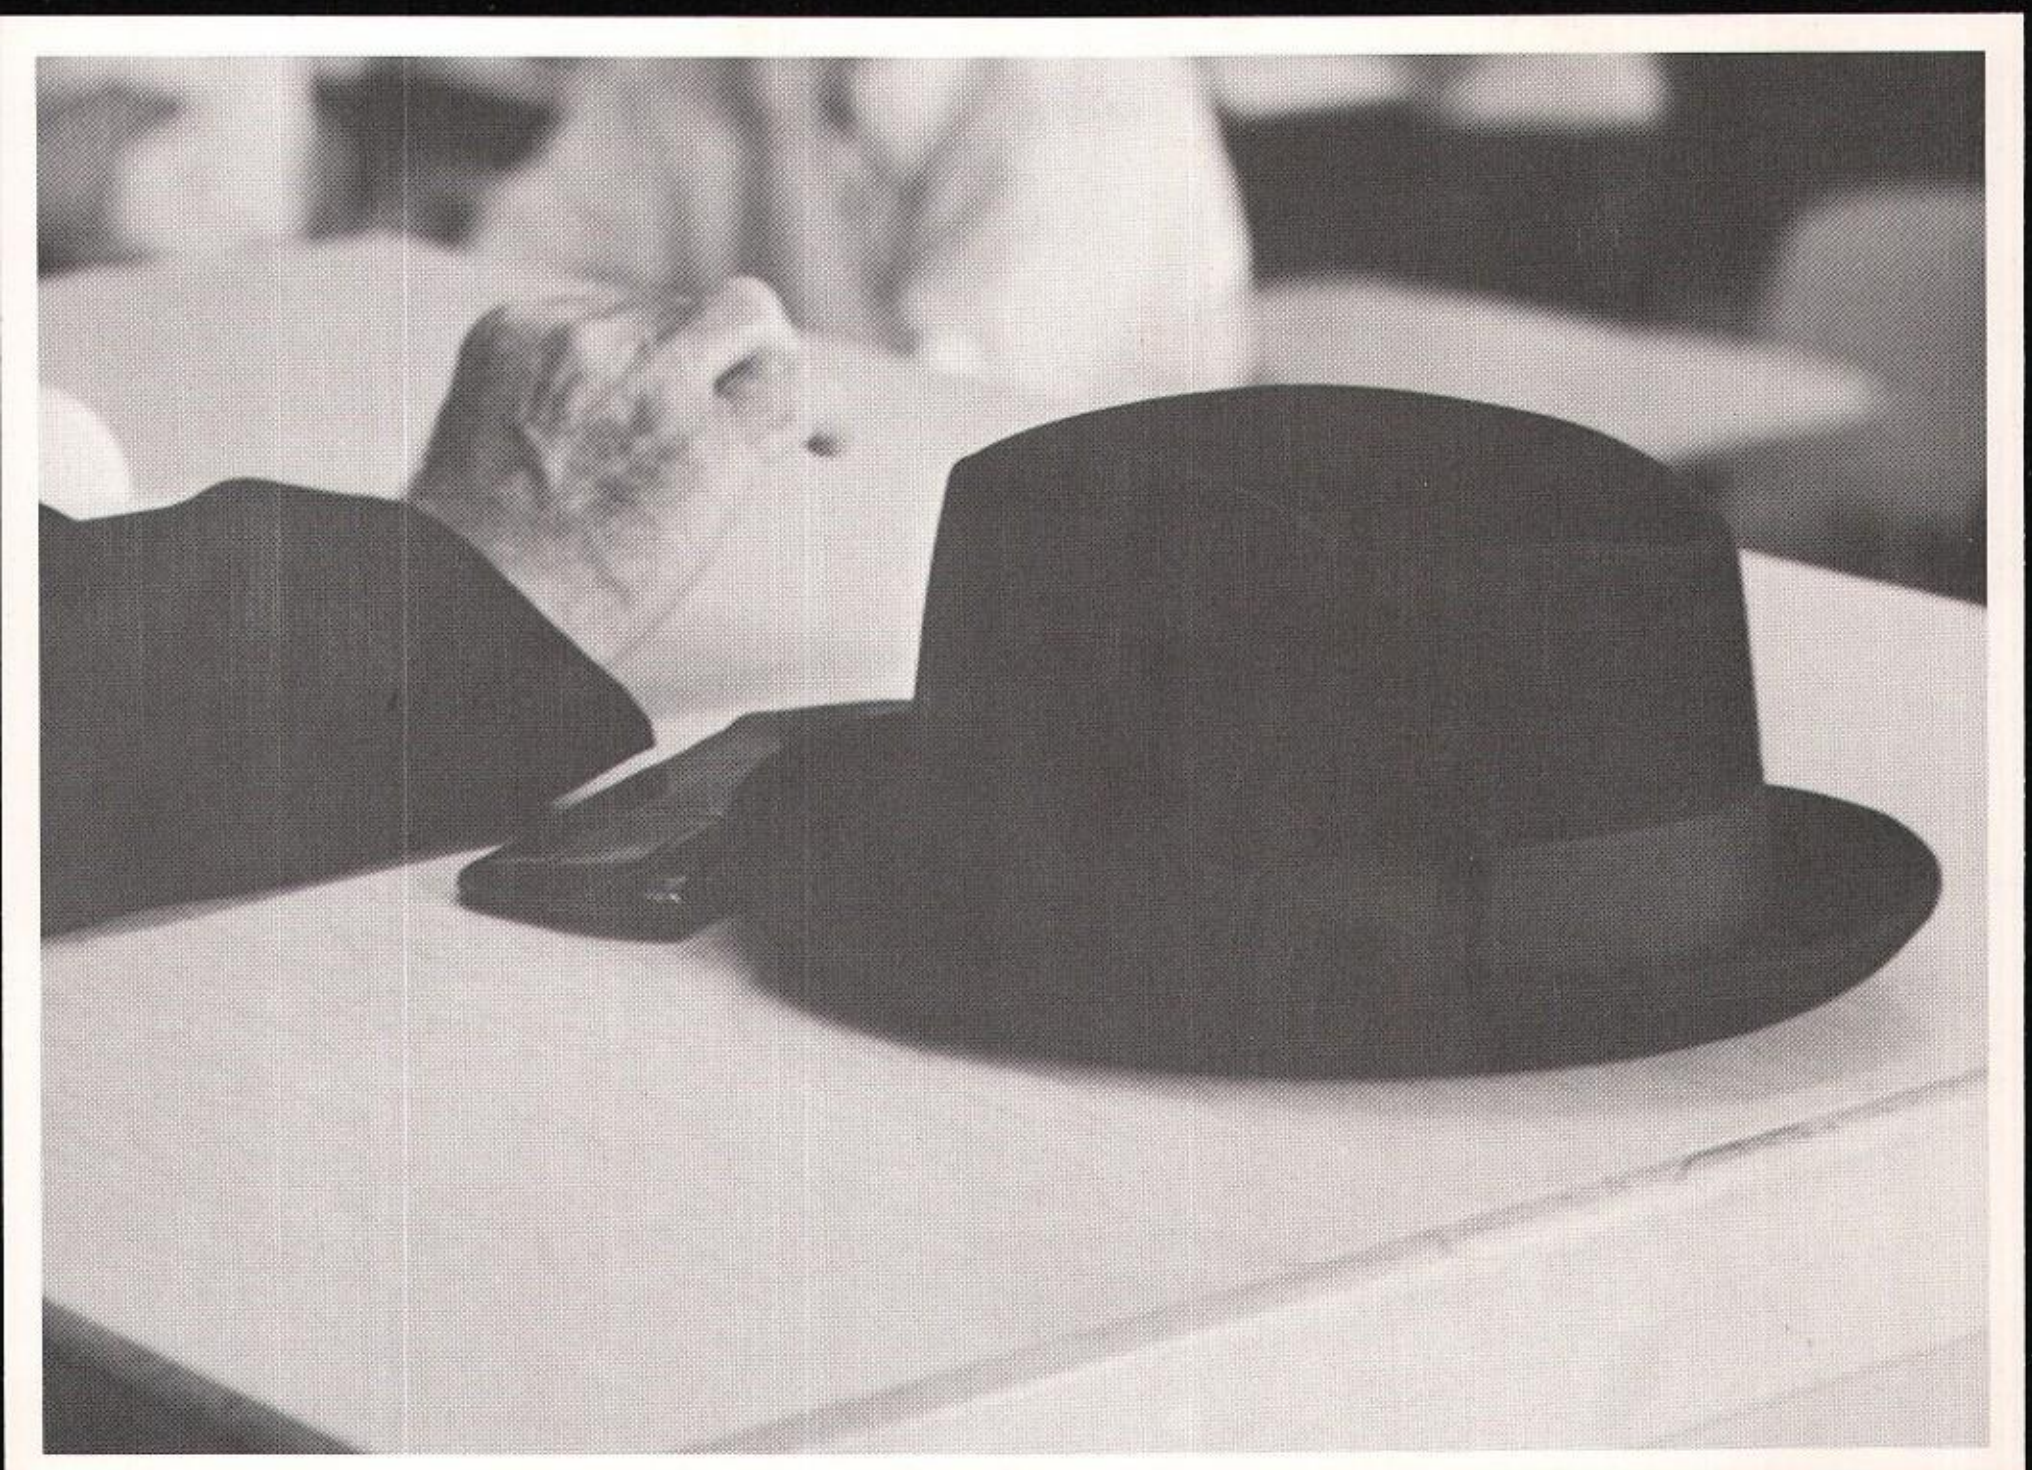
FACULTY

FACULTY

The Faculty of St. Joseph's High is made up of both Brothers of the Sacred Heart and laymen. Although they come from a wide variety of colleges and universities, these teachers all have the common quality of dedication. They take a personal interest in the success of each of their students by offering individual help to anyone who seeks it.

Besides teaching, the members of the faculty also serve as moderators of the various clubs at St. Joseph's. Through these clubs the teachers and students get to know each other better, and friendships tempered with the proper respect are developed.

The Faculty is divided into seven departments. These are the Guidance Department, the Religion Department, the Language Department, the English Department, the Social Studies Department, the Math Department, and the Science Department. Each one of these divisions sets forth its purpose and goals and tries to follow these guidelines in the classroom.



ADMINISTRATION

BROTHER JAMES O'GRADY, S.C., M.A.

MR. THOMAS PLATKO, M.A.
Assistant to the Principal

At any good school, a great deal of cooperation can be found among the administration, the faculty, and the student body. St. Joseph's is no exception to this rule. Under the leadership of our principal, Brother Aldric, the administration has found a way to listen to all sides of every question, and still maintain the position of authority that it should have.

This year, there was a major change in the administration of St. Joseph's. Previously, the entire burden of running the school was in the hands of the principal and the vice-principal. To obtain a broader outlook and to get a greater variety of opinions, an Academic Senate was formed. Upon the founding of the Senate, St. Joseph's became one of the few schools in the East to have one.

Senior Pat Delaney complains to Brother Ronald about the one dollar handling fee required with transcript requests.

Adolescence is a time of enjoyment, a time for sports, dances, pep rallies, and class trips. But the teenager is also faced with many problems during this time. It is the job of the Guidance Department to aid the student with these problems.

The Senior Division is headed by Brother Ronald. The aim of the program is to help the student decide whether to further his education, get a job, or enter the armed forces.

Brother Anthony is the counselor for the Junior Division. He attempts to inform the student about college so that he will be prepared for the decision he must make in the next year.

The Sophomore Division of the Guidance Department attempts to help the student develop his personality and come to know and accept himself. It is headed by Brother Vincent.

The role of the Freshman counselor, Brother Aidan, is very important to the success of the student. This division tries to help the graduated grammar school pupil adjust to high school life.

Religion plays an important role in the life of a St. Joseph's student. Since man is a being made of both body and soul, it is important that a person's religious education is not neglected.

Through the abilities of fine teachers, the students are given an up-to-date knowledge of their religion, a history of God's relations with man, and a knowledge of the motives which should challenge the student's response to faith and personal commitment. The idea is not to have the teacher list facts and tell the student to believe; instead, he is urged to understand for himself why he is a Catholic and to be able to give reasons to others for the faith within him.

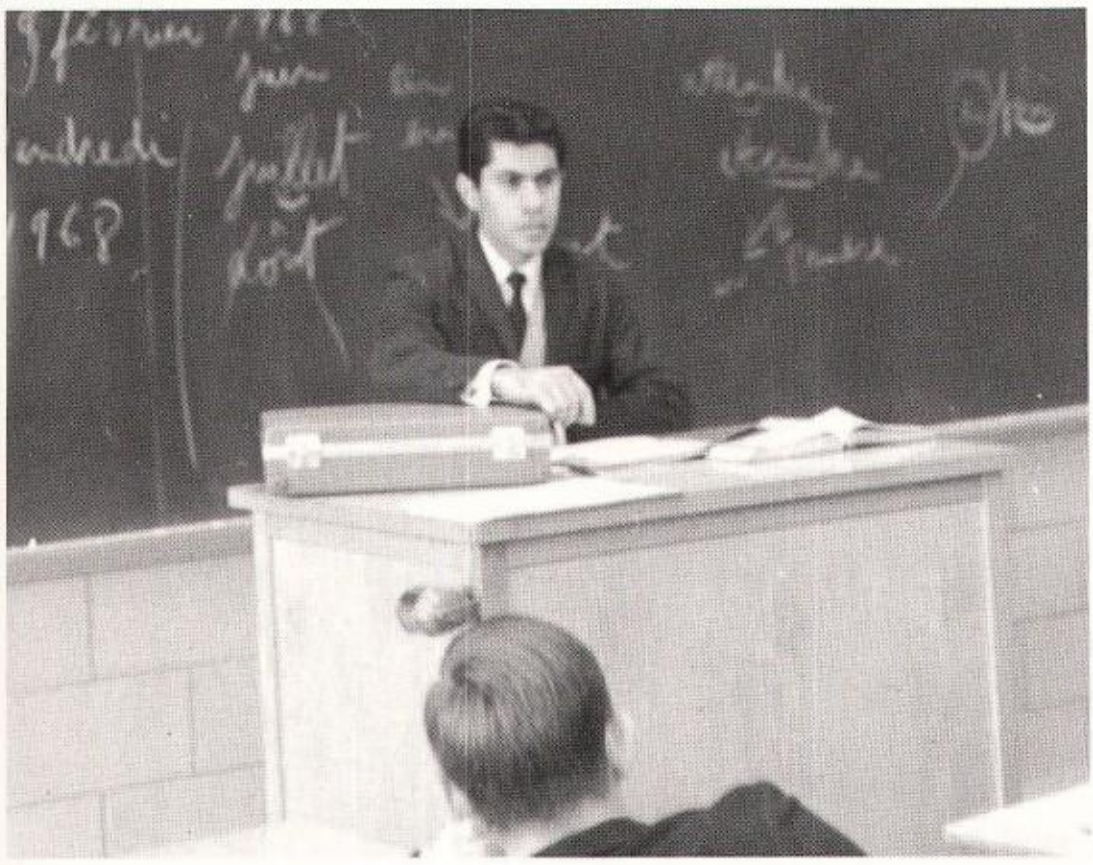
Advances in world communication and our country's increasing interest in other nations make us aware of the need of mastering foreign languages.

The Latin course, which is mostly translation, increases the student's ability to think logically. It also gives him a knowledge of a language which is the source of many words in English.

The French, German, and Spanish courses are primarily interested in teaching the student to speak and read the languages of these countries well enough to enjoy their national literatures. By means of the Audio-Lingual Method (A-LM), the student learns to understand the language as it is spoken, and to speak it with its native accents and pronounciations.



The oral aspects of a modern language are emphasized at St. Joe's. Here, Mr. Salameh leads his French class in a discussion on a passage from their books.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

English, or Language Arts, is the common name for the entire field of language study, including listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The English Department, by means of a three-fold course of composition and grammar, literature, and speech, tries to develop these invaluable abilities in each student.

The value of words, and their function and purpose, is emphasized by interpreting literature in class discussions or written responses. The student is made aware of the beauty of our language and of its tremendous imagery in figurative expression. A required reading list acquaints the student with the world's great books and authors, and encourages him to read on his own.

Speech classes develop the ability to speak with ease in the presence of others and to be able to think on one's feet. With the aid of ever-increasing facilities, the English Department hopes to teach everyone to express himself correctly in a world where he must speak out or be ignored.

Social Studies prepares the student for active citizenship by providing him with an understanding of man's behavior, past and present, which has laid the foundation for the society we live in.

The Social Studies course is a three-year course, including World History and American History, and an elective of an Economics-Government course in the senior year.

Social Studies brings about in the student an appreciation of our civilization and its development, and an awareness of the continuity of history. It produces an interest and insight into current events and national policies, and an awareness of the relationship between Divine Providence and its unfolding in the history of man.

It has been said that mathematics has developed more in the 20th century than in all the rest of history. Math has grown through research and through the increasing use of computers, which can now solve problems that were once thought to be impossible to solve.

At St. Joseph's, stress is placed on the understanding of math as a logical discipline, and students are encouraged to creativity, initiative, and curiosity.

The math courses at St. Joseph's include algebra, geometry, intermediate algebra, trigonometry, and calculus, which is an elective for seniors. Most of the courses are taught by using the School Mathematics Study Group (SMSG) books, which cultivate the ability to think critically in solving practical problems.

The technological advances of the last century have brought us into a world of spacemen, heart transplants, and computers. We have become fully aware of the role of science in our lives, and a knowledge of its principles is necessary for all.

The science program at St. Joseph's covers four subjects. The freshmen receive an Earth Science course, which increases their general store of scientific knowledge. In the next three years, the student studies each of the three lab sciences: Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. These courses train the student in the inductive method of reasoning and enable him to appreciate the symmetry, beauty, and unity of the universe.

The cafeteria crew of Mrs. Jesse Martyn, Mrs. Lillie Mae Marshall, Mrs. Loretta Daly, Mrs. Jeanette Yuhas, and Mrs. Marie Stephan have the arduous task of feeding 900 ravenous teenagers every day after a morning of mental gymnastics.

Mr. August (Augie) Eosso and his industrious crew of custodial engineers have the job of cleaning the school after those same 900 teenagers.

Brother Richard Leven, Brother George Woodburn, and Brother Felix also have important tasks to perform. Brother Richard helps to coach the Freshman Track Team and serves as a study hall prefect. ACTIVITIES

At 2:50 P.M. each weekday, a bell echoes through the halls of St. Joseph's, immediately followed by a large, collective sigh from all the classes. It just so happens that this bell at 2:50 is the dismissal bell, and everyone, students and teachers alike, are all glad that another day of arduous learning has come to an end.

However, the bell does not start a mass migration towards cars and buses to go home. Instead, many students stay at school to participate in some extra-curricular activity, an activity that relaxes the student and gives him a sense of accomplishment.

More than eight hundred intelligent students attend St. Joe's, and the interests of these active youngsters are many and varied. As the goal of a St. Joseph's education is to develop the full man, there must be some activity to satisfy the interests of each and every student. As a result, over the years, new activities have sprung up where they were needed, and today there are some twenty clubs and organizations, including language and science clubs, publications and debate and numerous others.

Here we wish to present to you a picture story of these activities, a story to show the goals and accomplishments of these worthwhile groups.

NEWSPAPER

Under the direction of Mr. Platko, the Falcon News develops a student's interest in journalism. The main goal of the newspaper is to promote school news to the student body. Putting out a newspaper requires a tremendous amount of work, especially on Saturdays. For this reason we honor the Falcon News, even though it is the yearbook's greatest rival.

Head photographer, Tom Schirripa prepares to take more of his famous pictures.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Council here at St. Joe's is to give the student body a ways and means for partially governing itself. Under this year's direction of Brother James O'Grady and president Joe Loeffler the student council has succeeded in drawing the administration and the students closer together.

The senior student council members meet with Brother James O'Grady in the library to discuss future affairs.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Dance Committee, a function of the Student Council, is the organization with the task of decorating either the gym or the cafeteria for each dance. The activities, better called festivities, begin immediately after school on Friday, the day before the dance, with the traditional buying of adhesive tape and the unintentional spilling of paint. The decorating continues right on up until about 6:00 Saturday evening, two hours before the dance.

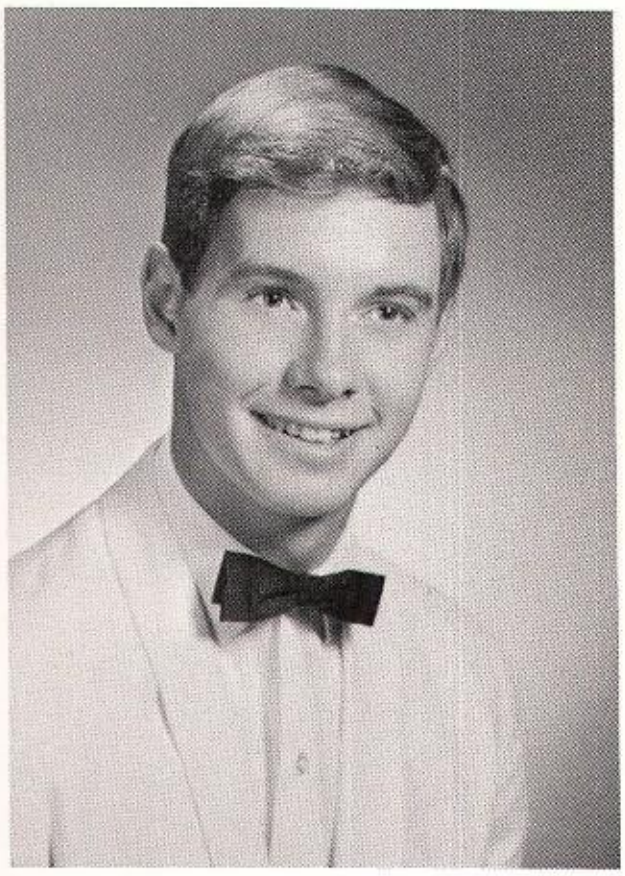
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

The Student Council Publicity Committee again accomplished another classic year in advertising the various scholastic and athletic activities. The committee is a group of rather unique, unorthodox, satirical, unusual, mystical North American artists. These posters are usually humorous. The S.C.P.C. was able to provide the student body with accurate details of forthcoming important events, such as National Think English Week. Clever, those artists.

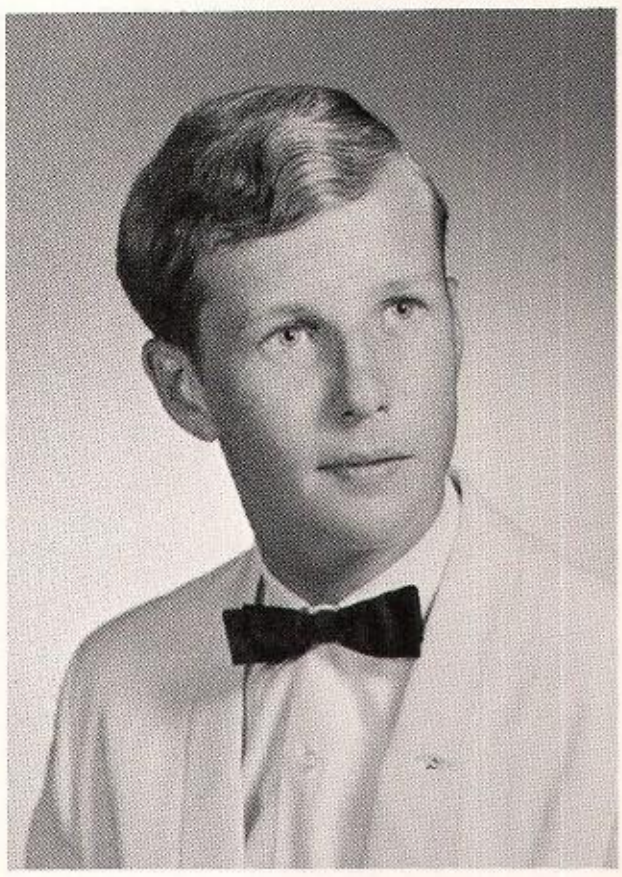
The Publicity Committee anxiously awaits the arrival of the Good-Humor Man.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Gene Romagna helps conduct ceremonies at this year's first annual inductions to the National Honor Society.



St. Joseph's is proud to have two National Merit Scholarship finalists among its graduating seniors. They are Edward Healey and Francis Fumia.



Can these really be cheerleaders?

PEP RALLIES

"All for St. Joe's stand up and holler!" is heard several times a year at the pep rallies held in the gym. The student body is given an opportunity at these assemblies to show their support of the various athletic teams in the school. They also provide an opportunity for those students, who may not be in the "right" spirit, to be influenced to actively support our teams by the rest of the student body.

Mighty George Kurtz makes sure no one interferes with the basketball game staged at one of this year's pep rallies.

Flower children Ron Armour and Joe Santucci frolic around the gym portraying basketball players from C.B.A. during an assembly.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

The purpose of the language clubs here at St. Joe's is to not only help a student in the study of a foreign language but also to familiarize him with the country that the language originates from. Each year at Christmas time the three clubs present an assembly to the student body, showing how Christmas is celebrated in foreign countries.

BAND

Together with the diverse musical attributes of Mr. Braga and the inspired determination of its members and combined with the able moderation of Brother Robert Sheeley, Saint Joseph's High School Band has risen to new plateaus of musical achievement. It entertains the student body on various occasions, including plays, pep rallies and assemblies.

Frank Fitzgerald receives the ball with which he scored his 1000th point from his coach, Bill Schreck.

ALUMNI

How do graduates of Saint Joseph's remain active in scholastic activities after the days of fun and games have passed? Our Alumni Association, under the moderation of Mr. Tier and leadership of "Ace" Bixel, its president, fulfills this need. As a vital organization of the school, each year the association sponsors the Homecoming Dance and Alumni Faculty Game.

Mr. Lyons leads his teammates on to another victory by the faculty over the alumni.

The alumni enjoy another Homecoming dance. This year held during the week after Christmas.

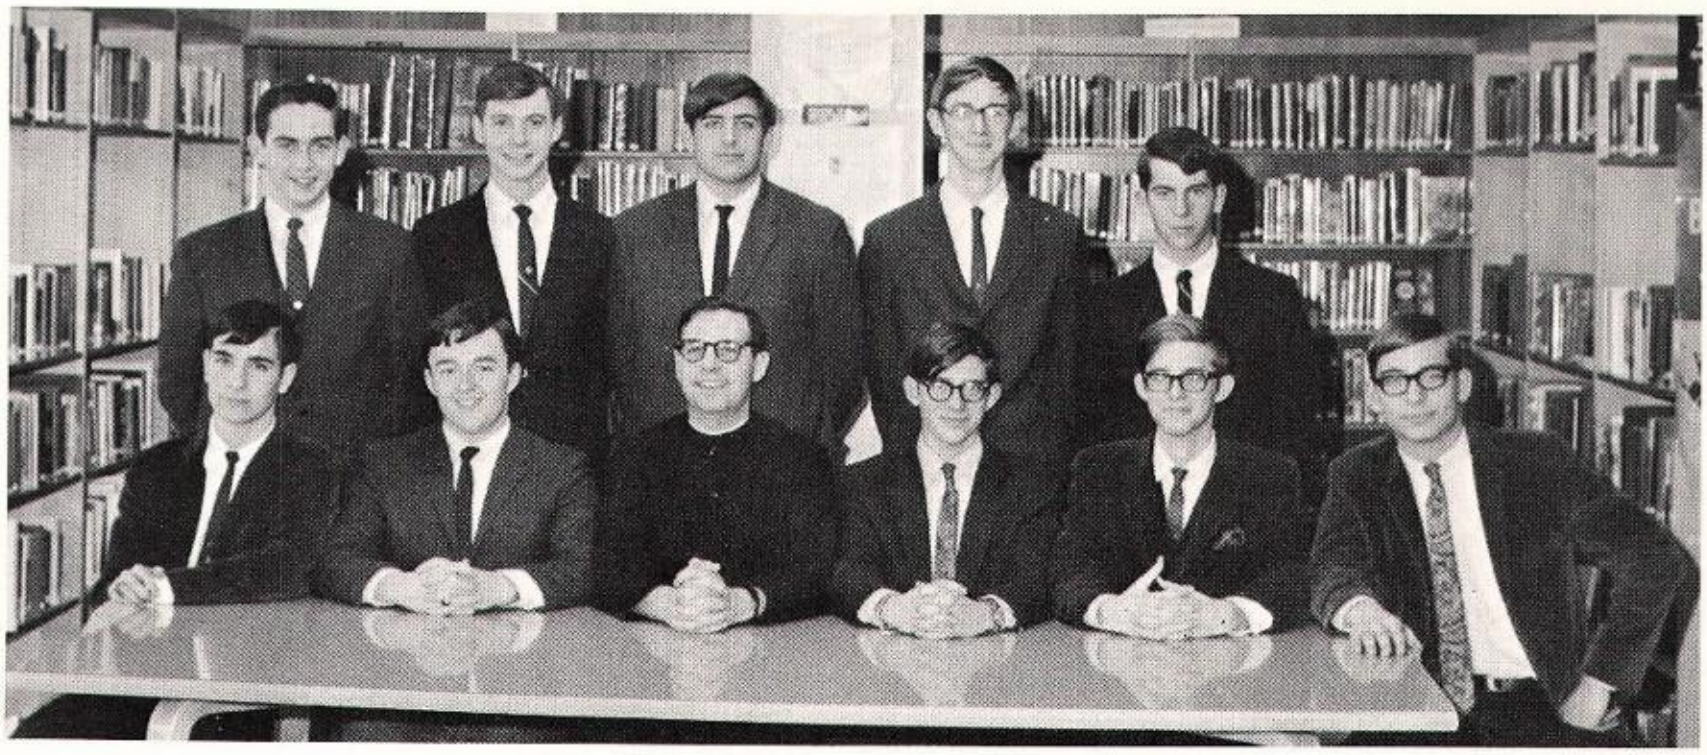
APOSTOLIC ACTIVITIES

On Sunday mornings, seven St. Joe's seniors teach sixth and eighth grade Confraternity classes at St. Francis School, Metuchen. Under the guidance of Bro. Vincent Gartland, these boys give of their time to help public school children in learning their religion. Teaching sixth grade boys are Tom Kenny, Don Fallon, Mike Wagner, Bob Paulmenn, John Hourihan, and Tim Smith. Ed Healey teaches the eighth grade. Through these classes, these boys also increase their own experience in working with and for other people.



YEARBOOK

At the end of each school year, the student body eagerly awaits the arrival of the school yearbook, the Evergreen, with the words "I hope my picture's in it" on the lips of everybody. The goal of the yearbook staff is to present a picture-story of the past year's events. This year's book, with increased quality and numerous modernizations, and a new cover design, fulfills this goal, bringing to you the story of the students of 1967-1968.

The tables in the yearbook office show the industriousness of the yearbook crew.

They must have met the deadline, everybody's smiling!

SPORTS

1967-68 was by far the best sports year that St. Joe's has had in its short history. All of the athletic teams had fine seasons, as the Falcons became revered throughout the county and state as real powerhouses in all sports.

The varsity soccer team, under the coaching of Gus Salameh, put together a record of 5-8-3, the best in its four year history. The freshman team was undefeated in 11 games, winning 10 and tying the other. Harry Brett's cross country team won the Middlesex County Cross Country Championship for the fourth consecutive year. Tim Turner was named to the All-County first team, and John Duffy and Bob Monahan made the Second Team.

In basketball, the varsity team also had its best season, winning 18 while losing only 6. Coach Bill Schreck's team won the Monsignor Sullivan Christmas Tournament for the third year in a row, making the trophy a permanent possession. The team was seeded in the County Tournament, advancing to the semi-finals before being eliminated.

The winter track team won both the County Winter Track and Winter Relay Championships, as they won three of the five events in the Relays.

The spring sports, baseball, tennis, golf, and track, with many returning lettermen, should all have successful seasons. All but one of last year's golf team (13-1) will be returning; included in this group will be Mike Lampe and Mark Tasy, who finished first and second in last year's county tournament.

With great athletic ability continually pouring in, St. Joe's will maintain its status in the sports world for many years to come.

FALCONS ENJOY FINEST SEASON WITH 18–6 RECORD

JIM CLARK
First Team, All-County

One cannot find enough superlatives to describe the 1967-68 basketball season at St. Joe's. The Falcons were respected throughout the state as formidable foes, and numerous teams fell to the tenacious Falcon defense, as shown by the team's fine 18-6 record.

Coach Bill Schreck stressed defense this year, and defense he got, as the team gave up a stingy 52 points a game. The well-balanced offense, which put 64 points per game through the hoop, was led by All-County star Jim Clark, who averaged 18 points a game. Clark was assisted by John Donovan (11 per) and Frank Dynof (10 a game), and the top-notch passing and play-making of Tim Smith.

The Falcons got off to a fine start, beating J.P. Stevens in the season opener, then going on to win the next five in a row, including winning the Monsignor Sullivan Christmas Tournament for the third year in a row. After losing a tough one in overtime to Highland Park, Mike Wagner, the hub of the defense, and Frank Dynof were injured. But St. Joe's showed its bench strength as big Tom Fisco and soph Bob Cilento played fine ball in replacement of Wagner and Dynof.

With the team of Clark, Smith, Donovan, Fisco, and Cilento, the Falcons won the next nine games in a row. The team went into the big game at C.B.A. with a 15-1 record and came out 15-2, losing by a score of 66-51. After winning two more games, St. Joe's entered the Middlesex County Tournament. Coming off a romp over J.F.K. in the first game, the Falcons downed Madison Township in a real squeaker, 66-61 in overtime. In the following game, the surprising defense of John Somogyi and Co. proved to be too much, defeating Mr. Schreck's quintet. Entering the State Tournament with an 18-5 record, St. Joseph's of Camden, averaging 6'4" to the Falcons 6'1", defeated the Falcons, 67-46.

The 1968-69 season, which includes a new, tougher schedule with such teams as Perth Amboy, Don Bosco and Seton Hall, promises to be another exciting season. Returning from this year's squad are Dynof and Cilento, Tom Brady, John Ur, Donovan and Steve Prokopiak, and numerous stars from the fine Junior Varsity team.

In 1967 St. Joseph's Cross Country team had another fine season. By means of experience, hard practice, and a knowledgeable coach, the boys compiled an impressive record. The team was paced by junior Tim Turner, who was placed on the All-County and All-Conference First Teams. Also outstanding were seniors Bob Monahan, Second Team All-County and All-Conference; John Turner, Third Team All-Conference; and junior John Duffy, Second Team All-County and All-Conference. These runners, along with Mike Collard, Paul Troyano, John Malazdra, and Keith Cunningham, compiled a long, impressive list of first place berths. Included in these first place finishes are the Harry Coates Invitational Meet in Providence, R. I., the St. John's University Meet in New York City, the New Jersey Catholic Conference Meet, and, for the fourth year in a row, the Middlesex County Championships. Finally, the team placed second in the State Meet behind a strong Essex Catholic team.

With numerous experienced runners on this year's Varsity and JV returning next year, Coach Harry Brett hopes for another very successful season.

'68 FALCONS DISPLAY BALANCED ATTACK

In the 1967 season, Mr. McCloud's varsity diamond men put together a record of 10 wins and 8 losses, the best in the five years of baseball at St. Joe's. This year's goal is even higher: the State Tournament. With a fine pitching staff and experienced hitters, this goal does not seem far out of reach. Returning pitchers are ace John Murphy (5-3), Tom Molloy, and John Rudman. Up from the JV's are Don Calabro and Fran Tivald. Behind the plate will be either Jim Greaney or Bob Prongay. Paul Gurzo and Frank Dynof, both juniors, share the first base job. At second base is three year veteran Tim Smith, who is backed up by Rich Gawlak. Bob Cilento, a sophomore, won the job of shortstop with his fine all-around ability. Over at the hot-corner will be Pete Kucma or Joe Ricci. Winning ways are not new to St. Joe's trackmen. Last year, the team won four of the five county meets, and in the 1965-1966 year, they swept all five championships. Numerous stars such as the Monohan Brothers, Bob and Joe, and the Turner Brothers, Tim and John, along with Mike Collard, John Malazdra, Paul Troyano, and John Duffy, make such championships possible with their dedication and hard work.

UNDERCLASSMEN

September of his freshman year is the beginning of a new life for the St. Joseph's student. The freshman starts off, being just out of grammar school, slightly on the bewildered side, having to adjust to high school life: changing classes, new classmates, gym.

The student returns to the sophomore year with one year of high school life under his belt, and now he thinks of himself as an integral part of the school. With this new awareness comes an outspokenness and a certain rebelliousness that is traditional to all sophomores.

Junior year is the year when the student begins to think of his future: what can he do and what will he be? Where will he go to college? Junior year is the big prelude to the senior year, and the juniors take on ever-increasing roles in the function of the school.

SENIORS

Senior year is:

when you can leave at two o'clock.
when you try to get away with long sideburns.
the year that costs a lot of money.
the year that you loaf from January to June.
when you get senior privileges.
when you can work on underground magazines.
a study hall every day.
driving to school.
when you have art class.
cutting into the a la carte lunch line.
getting caught smoking in the men's room.
when you are disappointed in your class rank and college boards.
Mama Maria's after basketball games.
when after three years you learn how to sleep in class without getting caught.
